Interim CAO leaves Town of Wasaga Beach

Wasaga Beach – Interim chief administrative officer Gerry Marshall is no longer with the municipality.

“Gerry joined us at the town towards the end of the last term of council when our long-term chief administrator retired. On behalf of all council members and staff, I want to express our appreciation to Gerry for helping us out,” Mayor Nina Bifulchi said. “Gerry provided our organization with steady leadership during the municipal election period and in the weeks afterwards leading up to the swearing in of our new council.”

Council will meet on Thursday to consider how it should proceed with filling the chief administrative officer position.
